

Homework: Tuesday 11 September.

Today, you learned that division means to divide equally. I would like for you to note any equal dividing you notice at home tonight – it might be at dinner, while playing with your brother or sister (or mum and dad!) you can decide

My three division stories (words and pictures...and if you are super keen, the number sentence too!) are:

1.

2.

3.

If you can manage the three – you will get a raffle ticket!

See how you go!
